

Hurricane Season 2009 is Underway...
Are you prepared?

888.PENCO.01

Hurricane season is upon us. It is not a question of if a hurricane will strike, but rather when and where? Expert researchers predict 14 tropical storms in the 2009 Atlantic hurricane season, seven of which will develop into hurricanes, with four reaching Category 3 status or higher.

ARE YOU PREPARED? Have you taken the steps necessary to protect your investments and ensure your income producing properties are back online as quickly as possible? The key to an expedient recovery starts with having a detailed plan in place before a disaster strikes. Having a disaster preparedness program and carefully planning each step of the process ahead of time provides you with a road map to minimize recovery time, as well as the financial impact it takes for you to ensure business continuity.

Key elements of a disaster preparedness program include:

- Preparation/Planning
- Emergency Response
- Recovery - Reconstruction/Restoration
- Post Recovery Review

If you are faced with a potentially devastating loss, wouldn't you rather fly through the restoration process by teaming up with a reputable, established company like Penco?
